Always there when you need it

You may not always think about your home’s energy use. But with PECO natural gas, you like how warm it makes you feel, the control you have when cooking and the fact that it’s reliable, safe and clean-burning.

The best part? You pay about $1,000 less to heat your home compared to other heating fuels, like oil or propane. Plus, you’ll get valuable rebates when you switch to natural gas appliances or upgrade to more efficient ones.

Keep your gas meter clear

• Use a broom, not a shovel, to cautiously clear snow and ice from the gas meter area
• Alert snow removal or plow operators to the location of your meter so it doesn’t get damaged by their equipment

Keep outside vents clear

• Know the location of all appliance air supply ducts and exhaust vents. Keep them clear of snow and debris.
• Make sure chimneys and appliance vents are cleared following a snow or ice storm. Proper venting will prevent carbon monoxide accumulation.

A little help can go a long way
Once in a while, you or someone close to you may fall behind in paying a PECO bill.

Customers who are ill, away from home for an extended period of time or unable to handle their own affairs can designate a third party to receive shut-off notices from PECO. A third party can be a trusted relative, friend, clergy member or social service agency.

The program is voluntary and must be a mutual agreement. The third party is not responsible for paying bills, and cannot stop PECO from shutting off service if a bill is not paid. However, when a designated third party contacts PECO about a shut-off notice, PECO will tell them what is required to stop termination of service. To sign up, both parties must complete and sign the PECO Third Party Notification form, which can be obtained at peco.com or by calling 1-800-494-4000.
