Electric Rates to Change Beginning April 1, 2022

Beginning with service provided April 1, 2022, changes will affect your monthly electric bill. For a residential customer using 700 kilowatt-hours (kWh) per month, this results in a total decrease of $0.12 to the typical monthly bill, from $111.70 to $111.58, or 0.11%. The enclosed bill reflects this change. Here are the details:

Consumer Education Plan Costs:

PECO's Consumer Education Plan helps educate customers on Pennsylvania's competitive energy market. The plan includes certain costs approved by the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission (PAPUC). The impact of these changes on the Customer Charge is:

- Rate R (Residential Service), Rate RH (Residential Heating Service) and CAP (Customer Assistance Program) is decreasing by two cents to $10.51.
- Rate GS (General Service) will remain a rate of zero cents.
- Rate HT (High Tension) will increase by two cents to $353.87.
- Rate PD (Primary Distribution) will increase by two cents to $295.97.

Distribution System Improvement Charge (DSIC): The DSIC, which is shown as a separate line item on your bill, allows PECO to expedite the modernization of the distribution system through the installation, replacement and relocation of electric equipment and facilities. The DSIC will decrease from a value of 0% to a value of -0.16%. This change will result in a decrease of $0.10 per month for a typical residential customer using 700 kWh per month. This change will result in a decrease of $0.39 per month for a typical small commercial customer and a decrease of $5.46 for a typical large commercial customer.

Rate R – Residential Monthly Billed Charges

Customer Charge	$10.51
Generation Charges	$0.06433 per kWh
Transmission Charges	$0.00633 per kWh
Distribution Charges	$0.07388 per kWh

Minimum Charge: The minimum charge per month will be the Customer Charge. State Tax Adjustment applies to this rate.
